Author

Pain is distinct and multifaceted. Soul pain should not be dismissed, neglected, or denied. It is as real as life itself. The author describes in this book, her battle with soul pain, how she was delivered from soul pain; symptoms and conditions of soul pain in others, and how they too can be delivered. Because of God's love and grace, the sufferer of soul pain can be healed and brought to a place of wholeness to become a ray of light in this dark world through His Son, Jesus Christ. To achieve freedom from soul pain, various methods will always be sought to ease the pain, but the true conqueror of soul pain is Almighty God.

Review

"The content of Freedom From Soul Pain is very compelling. There are books that are read and there are books that are lived. The spiritual wisdom and insight in this book are life changing and heartfelt. God use people to impact the world and I believe; this book will have a great impact on the world for His glory."

Author's Update for Readers

2023 will be an exciting time for me. The book is finally written. Now it's time for me to share my journey with others. It was not easy to pen this book. I have laid bar my most private secrets, failures, joys, dreams, and future aspirations. Pain and turmoil were a part of my life, but God intervened and a life changing relationship began. If the blessings of Almighty God are not shared with the world, humanity will never know the small and great blessings he bestows upon humanity every day. It's time for me to see the glory of God move in a mighty way by changing hearts and through the words written in this book. With permission, a selected testimony of God's blessing will be shared of someone's changed life as a result of reading this book in monthly newsletters to inform you of God's goodness.

Blessings from God:

God was always with me through my brokenness and heartache. God gave me the strength and directions to pen this book. God has started a new journey in my life. The Holy Spirit has given me clarity of mind to do the things that please God.
